

Directions from Alicante airport

If you have a GPS you need to program it to go to Castril (Castril de la Peña, Granada) For the last part of the journey make sure you follow our directions (part in bold because some GPS devices will send you down the wrong track).

From Alicante airport you take the N338 and pick up the E15, direction Murcia. This motorway takes you past Murcia then deviates to the right, signposted Granada/Almeria. Follow this deviation and then look out for signs to Mula/Caravaca de la Cruz, RM15. Basically you take this road and stay on it, passing Mula, Bullas, Cehegin and Caravaca de la Cruz. At Caravaca follow signs for Andalucia. Effectively you are staying on the same road, though its number actually changes (RM15/C330/A330). You will bypass Barranda and pass through the tiny settlement of El Moral, eventually arriving at a town called La Puebla de Don Fadrique. Stay on the road, travelling towards Huescar, at which point you leave the dual carriageway and head into the town. Once in Huescar you will see signs for the A326 to Castril. About half an hour later you will come to Castril, but do not turn into the town, instead stay on the A326, direction

Pozo Alcon. You will pass a petrol station just outside the town then go through a tunnel and alongside the lake. The road runs alongside the lake until you get to a fork in the road. The road directly ahead is closed for repairs so you have to take the right hand fork uphill from the lake. Follow this road uphill on a very scenic curvaceous road. Between km17 and km16 of this road you will see a turnoff to the left signposted “Manual Diaz.” Take this turning and at the bottom of the hill you will see the first of the signs to EL GECO VERDE. Follow the road as it loops around to the right across a dry river bed, past a white building with post boxes on the wall, between some buildings, across a cobblestone courtyard, past a little church on your right, a few more houses (where you will see another hotel sign) and then the past cemetery, again on your right. The next El Geco Verde sign (the 3km marker) directs you to the left fork in the farm track just after the tarmac runs out. It is a good flat track, very safe, so do not worry. Stay on this track and at 2.7kms take the right fork in the road, (signposted El Geco Verde) go left around the big tree and approach the hotel up a short steep hill.
